about where it would be convenient for him to leave me stay. Nan is just fine, came home on Wednesday - She will probably go to Kate's in Essex, Conn - while I am with you.
The stop is Old Saybrook from the same train I want to take.

I am delighted that you like the G. Crane spoons. For some reason I have never used them - I have a dozen Crane ones we use all the time, probably belonged to William Egbert and Hannah

Morris Crane, Georgianna's "grain parents". I also have 6 marked H.H. which I love. They were Hannah's, probably when she married Wm. Egbert. G. Crane was married in 1867 so yours are nearly 100 years old anyway. Mother had teaspoons of Adeliza Munson's, her grandmother on her father's side. Then I sent to Mary years ago and I hope she will give them to Janice. This sort of evens things up. There are many things I remember about G. Crane which I will tell you some day. She was very fond of me and I was fond of her though a little in awe of her. She did not approve of Mother and the way she brought up her children. The fancy teaspoons of Mother's we used as egg spoons, for she had all the headed pattern for other uses and the Crane ones for teaparties. We use stainless steel for egg spoons now and the ones I sent you I haven't used for some time. They are pretty and were probably a wedding present of Mother's.

So glad you saw Helen Hayes. She is a fine actress - The garden sounds promising. ~~Good luck.~~ We had a very good birding day yesterday in the back yard - very late -

Lots of love to you all,

A H

Will go to the Pentagon Gallery some day. Kate knew it, too.
